MY EXPERIENCE IN NEW MEXICO

For the past three years I have been in “the land of enchantment”, from the southern White Sands to the northern city of Taos, from Gallup passing through Sandia Mountain to the city of Tucumcari, the place of Red Chile, and the famous Balloon Fiesta. This is the State of New Mexico. When I began my itinerancy, full of uncertainty and fear I did not know what to expect or what to bring, but I went with a word from my rector; “Take advantage of this time”. When I arrived in New Mexico, I soon found myself announcing the Good News on foot, house to house, in towns like Bernalillo, Bloomfield, Meadowlake, Española and Chimayo. I experienced and discovered firsthand the reality of New Mexico, that it is not only one of the poorest states in America, but also one with a high rate of drug overdoses and suicides. Seeing all these sufferings in people inspired me to evangelize, announcing Jesus Christ Risen, who gives meaning to life and suffering. I realized that God Himself was sending me there, but I did not know He was there already waiting for me to speak from my heart, literally “in the desert”. In spite of all my shortcomings, God allowed me to witness the miraculous rebuilding of broken marriages and lives that otherwise would have been destroyed without the preaching of the Good News.

We spent long hours driving back and forth, many times crossing three states, from the small town of St Johns in Arizona to Amarillo, Texas (where there live more cows than people!). God was teaching me to live freely, entrusting to me the gift of His Divine Providence. In the seminary I had begun to learn how to serve others; the mission gave me a chance to be present to people. To navigate the disparity between the English and Spanish speaking people. And to witness firsthand how God’s grace makes different people one in the Lord. I am now scheduled to return to the seminary and am looking forward to continue my studies in third Theology in the Fall.

"The Church proposes, the Church imposes nothing,' John Paul wrote in the encyclical Redemptoris Missio. And propose what? As the Pope said on so many occasions: to propose Jesus Christ as the answer to the question that is every human life. That was the proposal John Paul was convinced the world was waiting for out there in the deep of individual lives, as well as in cultures and societies. And that is the proposal the Church's priests have to make in order to inspire a renewed evangelical energy and the people of the Church, empowered by that priestly ministry, to take the Christian proposal out into the deep of contemporary society."
